2018 Presidents Message

Johnathan Glisson
2018 RSCMA President

Hello Everyone,

What an honor it has been to serve as your president this year. It has been a career highlight for me and I've had the pleasure of working alongside some of the very best in the industry. I have definitely received more in return than I ever put in and the reward was getting to know each of you. I could not have asked for a better group of men to fill out the executive board. Tim Stephens, Eric Bray, & Michael Kruger were instrumental in the association's success this year and deserving of all of our thanks and praise. I would also like to thank Gina and her Staff for all of their effort this year and for again pulling off another successful convention. A very special thank you goes out to all of our sponsors. Without you, the Association events would not be possible. You guys are the best and we very much appreciate your support. I would also like to take this time to thank Mark Jenkins, whose calls and texts to check in on me and see how things were going were always meaningful and sincere. Mark, you're a class act and I thank you for every call.

Speaking of convention, this year's summer convention was tremendous and I think everyone who got the opportunity to hear Amy Copland speak got a healthy dose of perspective. What an incredible and inspiring young lady she is and we wish her all the best in her life and career. I would also like to thank all of our speakers who were able to attend and bring valuable information and substance to our event. The weekend as a whole was very enjoyable and I thank everyone who was able to attend. You make convention what it is every year. A special time for sharing with like-minded men and women in an industry that can, all too often, feel a bit lonely.

We have an exciting new executive board waiting in the wings and I cannot wait to see what they will do. Tim Stephens, I wish you all the best and know that you will be a pivotal part of the future of this association. I would also like to welcome this year's President Award winner to the executive board. Carson Finney is an exciting young man with tons of new and great ideas. I know he will prosper in his new role and be a benefit to us all. Good luck Carson!

We have some great events coming up this year. Our annual College Sponsorship Golf Tournament will be coming up in October and I'd love to see everyone there. Cory Tibbs and staff always put together a fun event that provides a social atmosphere for us to get together and raise money for a great cause. Also, our annual Pheasant Shoot will be held in December. Come join us and help raise money for our nations very best, our veterans. We can never do enough to show them our gratitude.

And finally, I ask that you get involved with helping us grow the Association. The more we grow, the more we can do for the benefit of our members. Come to an event, bring a colleague or industry friend. Come eat our wings and drink free beer. You'll be happy you did and we'll be happy to see you there. Know that I wish each of you the very best in life and it has been a privilege of a lifetime to know you!

Meet Our Upcoming 2018-2019 President

Hello to all,

As roofing and sheet metal contractors in the state of Georgia we have many challenges facing us. Two of the biggest are a lack of state licensing for roofing contractors and workforce shortages. Obstacles are frustrating as sometimes they force us to change paths or stop us altogether. I love this quote from Marcus Aurelius:

“Our actions may be impeded... but there can be no impeding our intentions or dispositions. Because we can accommodate and adapt. The mind adapts and converts to its own purposes the obstacle to our acting. The impediment to action advances action. What stands in the way becomes the way”

As an industry and association, our two greatest obstacles can become our greatest strength. We have an opportunity to deal directly with our labor shortages by building a pipeline of potential workers from High Schools all over the state. The CEFGA organization is facilitating construction education at over 150 schools across Georgia. While unfortunately little or no roofing is being taught in these programs, it creates a tremendous opportunity for our association because right now the NRCA is spending $10 million+ on a professional roofing certification program that provides a curriculum and testing standards to train and certify roofing workers.

We need to take this opportunity to work together as an association to begin introducing and training young people to the skills and opportunities our industry provides while also certifying and raising the professional standard of our existing workforce. This will help bring a legitimacy to not only the workforce but to the companies that employ that workforce. This can be leveraged with the GC, consulting, architect and engineering communities to be written into specifications. It can also be used by the insurance industry to set standards in the residential markets. Additionally, it can be intertwined with the RSMCA's Voluntary Licensing to elevate our high standard contractors in the market place.

We need your help! We need a commitment from our members to be willing to bring the curriculum and training to these young people. We need our members to get the Voluntary License and promote it when they can. We need to participate with partner organizations like RCI, AGC, and NRCA to combine and bring awareness to our efforts. I'm confident we can overcome these challenges together and look forward to helping those efforts.

Lastly, I want to invite everyone to our next “Wing Night Social” on September 13th from 4:30 p.m.-6:30 p.m. at the Wing Factory Chamblee location. These have been great event and a good opportunity to bring someone who may be unfamiliar with our association so show up and spread the word.

Changes to OSHA's Silica Rule Forthcoming?

On May 9, 2018, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration announced its intention to consider revisions to Table 1 of its final rule on Occupational Exposure to Respirable Crystalline Silica. The rule was first published on March 26, 2016. The rule became final last September, and OSHA did not begin enforcing the rule until late October. The silica rule seeks to protect workers who may inhale silica dust. Table 1 of the rule provides a listing of construction activities, and it describes engineering controls, work practices, and respiratory protection required for each listed activity for employers to achieve compliance with the standard. Various construction trade groups expressed concern about the requirements set forth in Table 1 of the rule. Two of the chief complaints was that Table 1 did not address enough construction activities, and compliance with the requirements of Table 1 for the activities listed was not viable. OSHA stated that it intends to publish a Request for Information during November. OSHA announcement specifically provided the following:

"OSHA is interested in information on the effectiveness of control measures not currently included for tasks and tools listed in Table 1. The Agency is also interested in tasks and tools involving exposure to respirable crystalline silica that are not currently listed in Table 1, along with information on the effectiveness of dust control methods in limiting worker exposure to respirable crystalline silica when performing those operations. OSHA intends to evaluate the available information to determine if revisions to Table 1 may be appropriate."

The Request for Information will allow the public to provide input to OSHA on what tasks should be added to Table 1 and how to make Table 1 more viable for employers in the construction industry. We will be sure to update you when the Request for Information is published. In the meantime, if you have any questions about compliance with OSHA's silica standard, please call Philip Siegel, who can be reached via e-mail by clicking here, or you can reach him directly at (404) 469-9197.

EverGuard Extreme® is the best-performing TPO you can buy. See for yourself...

Heat can severely degrade TPO membranes over time. So we torture-tested our 60 mil EverGuard Extreme® TPO against the three other leading brands at 275°F—a temperature beyond even the most rigorous proposed ASTM tests. As you can see in the unretouched photography below, the results were astounding:

Our EverGuard Extreme® TPO looks virtually brand new, while every one of the competitive brands shows cracking (or worse failure).

Want to see for yourself? Watch the actual time-lapse photography at www.gaf.com/tpo. You'll never think about TPO the same way again.

 EverGuard EXTREME 60 mil TPO	 Competitor A's 60 mil TPO
 Competitor B's 60 mil TPO	 Competitor C's 60 mil TPO

Even after the most severe accelerated heat aging at 275°F for 163 days, EverGuard Extreme® TPO showed no cracking—while every one of the competitors' samples had failed!

See the actual time-lapse proof at www.gaf.com/tpo
