Winter 2018 ISSUE

2018 Presidents Message

Johnathan Glisson
2018 RSCMA President

Happy New Year Everyone. I hope each of you had a wonderful Christmas and a safe yet exciting New Years.

It looks like 2017 was a great year for the Roofing Industry and it appears that trend will carry over into 2018. The market is strong and I see another great year ahead.

As an association we finished our year with our annual RSMCA Pheasant Shoot. The shoot could not have happened on a more miserable day. We had a tremendous turn-out even with less than favorable conditions, quite honestly, it was a nasty day. But we carried on and were able to raise some money for a great organization. 2017 was our first year partnering with The Fallen Outdoors. The Fallen Outdoors is a veteran's benefit organization run by veterans and active duty service members. They take veterans, disabled or not, on hunting and fishing trips here in the state of Georgia and across the country. It is a focus of the RSMCA to help support our veterans and active duty service members as we have several veterans among our group and their sacrifices and time in uniform should be acknowledged. If the RSMCA can help that cause we will do so. All in all, we were able to donate $2,000.00 and we have bigger plans for 2018.

The association also held its first RSMCA social in January and if you missed it, you flat missed out. The event was held at the Wing Factory in Roswell after that day's board meeting and attendance was outstanding. We had a great group of contractors, manufactures reps, suppliers and support associates attend. Food and beverages were provided by the RSMCA and a good time was had by all. If you missed it, we are planning our next event in Smyrna, GA on March 20, 2018 following the board meeting on the same day. I encourage you to come join us and have fellowship with others in your industry that understand the day to day nuances we all face. I would like to give a special thanks to Carson Finney and David Weston for sharing your ideas and putting it all together. It is because of your efforts that we had such an enjoyable evening.

The RSMCA is planning a spring softball tournament with contractor members making up one team and associate members making up the other. I, for one, am really looking forward to this and think we are going to have quite a fun yet competitive atmosphere. So be on the lookout for dates and times to come out soon. We are trying to come up with more ideas to implement to give our associate members more face time with our contractor members through the year. If you have any ideas, reach out to me or the RSMCA staff as we would love to hear from you.

Lastly, we are still trying to increase our membership. Please, if you know of a residential contractor, low-slope contractor or associate contractor that might find some benefit and value from our organization, reach out to them. You can give me their number and I'll gladly call them. Membership is our groups largest focus. As we grow, we can provide more value and benefits to all our members. Help us spread the word! Make a call, bring someone to a meeting or social event; anything you can do is appreciated. Again, I would like to thank David Dees for his unsolicited efforts to spread the message about the RSMCA. It is that kind of involvement that will take us to the next level.

I pray each of you have a prosperous and safe 2018.

Hope to see you soon.

RSMCA 2017 Pheasant Shoot

The 2017 Pheasant Shoot went very well. Despite the rainy, snowy and cold weather the participants had an awesome time. Thanks to all of our sponsors we were able to make a $2,000.00 donation to the "Fallen Outdoors" which is an organization that works with our Nations Finest Veterans to facilitate hunting and fishing adventures. We have even bigger plans for a donation for the 2018 Pheasant Shoot. We are looking forward to this years Pheasant Shoot and hope you will join us.

Industry News~Roofing Day 2018

Roofing Day in D.C. 2018

YOU NEED TO BE THERE!

RSMCA's Own Tim Stephens is Team Captain!

On March 6-7, 2018, the roofing industry will come together for Roofing Day in D.C. 2018 where we will advocate to our respective members of Congress and their staffs. We will deliver our message about the most important legislative issues affecting the roofing industry and your business. The goal is to bring hundreds of roofing professionals to Capitol Hill to speak with one voice as a united industry.

Roofing Day in D.C. 2018 will consist of a reception Tuesday, March 6; a breakfast and training session Wednesday, March 7; and Capitol Hill visits Wednesday afternoon.

We need you to participate as part of the roofing industry! This event will draw roofing contractors, employees, distributors, manufacturers, service providers and others from across the U.S. We are trying to get at least 20 members to represent Georgia in this effort.

To be part of this groundbreaking event, follow these four steps:

Step 1: Register for Roofing Day in D.C. 2018 (visit www.nrca.net/Register-Roofing-Day-2018 to register) using either Team Captain code: STEPHENS2018 or REYES2018 to join us in advocating for our industry.

Step 2: Book your hotel reservations; visit www.nrca.net/Hotels-Roofing-Day-2018.

Step 3: Make your travel arrangements to join the roofing industry in Washington, D.C., for Roofing Day in D.C. 2018.

Step 4: Be there! Your Capitol Hill appointments with members of Congress and staffs will be made for you. For agenda details, visit, www.nrca.net/Agenda-Roofing-Day-2018.

Register Now

Be Sure to Comply with OSHA's Form 300A Posting Requirement

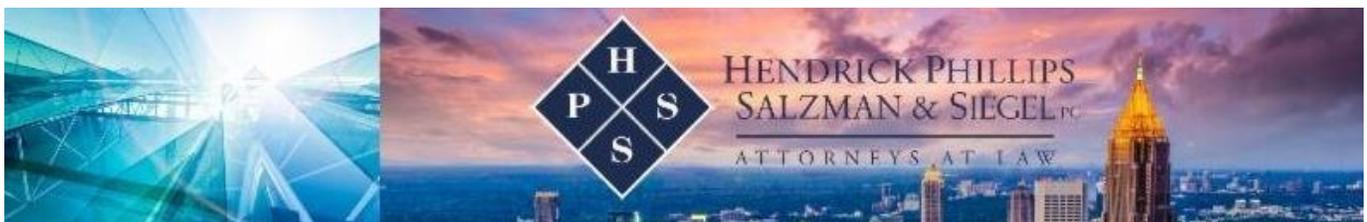

Between February 1 and April 30, covered employers must post OSHA's Form 300A in a place easily accessible to employees, such as the break room. Form 300A summarizes the total number of work-related injuries and illnesses that occurred during the prior calendar year and entered into OSHA Form 300, which logs such injuries and illnesses. Whereas Form 300 should include details, such as the nature of the injury and where it occurred, Form 300A only lists information such as the total number of deaths, cases involving days away from work, and total number of days away from work for all recordable cases. Recordable cases are those that involve a death; days away from work; restricted work or transfer to another job; medical treatment beyond first aid; loss of consciousness; diagnosis of a significant injury or illness by a healthcare professional; or a needlestick or sharps injury involving contamination by another person's blood or other potentially infectious materials.

Construction employers must post Form 300A even if no recordable injuries occurred during the prior year, with zeroes entered in the spaces.

Many employers with more than 10 employees are required by OSHA to keep a record of serious work-related injuries and illnesses. These records are used by employers, employees, and OSHA in the evaluation of worker safety, the assessment of industry safety hazards, and the implementation of worker protections to reduce and/or eliminate safety hazards, all of which work together to prevent future workplace injuries and illnesses. Only certain low-risk industries are exempt from the recording requirements, and minor inquiries requiring only first aid do not need to be recorded.

Under current rules, injury and illness records must be maintained at the worksite for at least five years. Also, copies of the records must be provided to past and current employees, or their representatives, upon request.

If you have any questions about OSHA's recordkeeping requirements, or any other questions about OSHA, please contact William Burnett or Philip Siegel. You can reach William Burnett directly at (404) 469-9183 or e-mail him by clicking here. You can reach Philip Siegel directly at (404) 469-9197 or e-mail him by clicking here.

TPO you can buy. See for yourself...

Heat can severely degrade TPO membranes over time. So we torture-tested our 60 mil EverGuard Extreme® TPO against the three other leading brands at 275°F—a temperature beyond even the most rigorous proposed ASTM tests. As you can see in the unretouched photography below, the results were astounding:

Our EverGuard Extreme® TPO looks virtually brand new, while every one of the competitive brands shows cracking (or worse failure).

Want to see for yourself? Watch the actual time-lapse photography at www.gaf.com/tpo. You'll never think about TPO the same way again.

 Competitor B's 60 mil TPO	 Competitor C's 60 mil TPO

Even after the most severe accelerated heat aging at 275°F for 163 days, EverGuard Extreme® TPO showed no cracking—while every one of the competitors' samples had failed!
